

SUGAR SOARS; FAILS TO MAKE A HIGH RECORD

Touches 6.53 Yesterday But Is Still Long Distance from the Leading Mark

Raw sugar on the Hawaiian basis in New York yesterday reached 6.53 in price. A higher figure may be reported at any time. As it stands, though, it is yet some distance below the record even in comparatively recent years. Hawaii had 8-cent sugar in 1889. That, again, was far below the record of sugar values in the United States, as will be seen by a few figures here presented.

Twenty-cent Sugar.

What would happen on the stock exchange and in the streets of Honolulu if the price of sugar went to the altitude of American war times? In 1865 the price of refined sugar was 20.1c a pound. The next year it dropped to 16.3c, and with 10.4c and 14.1c respectively the following two years there was a recovery to 15c in 1869. Not until 1877 did the price go below 10c and not until 1892 did it drop below 6c.

However, the price of raw sugar is not bad as recorded yesterday, and there is considerable of a portion of this year's Hawaiian crop which will have benefited by the advance of the past two weeks. Questioned this morning about the situation as affecting the Alexander & Baldwin plantations, Joseph P. Cooke, president of that corporation, gave some facts and figures as follows:

"About one-fifth of our sugars had not reached market on August 1. On that date about 8,000 tons of Puna, 6,000 tons of Maui Agricultural, 7,500 tons of Hawaiian Sugar, 5,500 tons of McBryde, 800 tons of Kahuku, had not reached market. Since then 1,300 tons of Hawaiian Commercial (Puna), and 1,600 tons of Maui Agricultural reached market on the basis of 4.38—that was on Monday last, August 10—and more than 300 tons of Kahuku has been marketed on the basis of 5.25.

Two Fortunate Companies.

"Of McBryde there are still 5,500 tons to arrive, representing about one-third of the crop, of which 990 tons are due in San Francisco tomorrow in the Hyades. Hawaiian Sugar has 7,500 tons still to arrive, of which 537 tons are in the Hyades. It will be six or seven weeks before all of McBryde and Hawaiian Sugar crops have reached market. It is fortunate that these two companies had such quantities to ship when prices began rising. On July 31 the price was 3.26c, today it is 6.53c. It looks as if these sugars will get the latter figure or better.

"Up to August 1 most of our sugars

COLUMBIAN'S CARGO UP $210,000 BETWEEN HAWAII AND N. Y. MARKET

War's effect on sugar increased the value of the cargo of the American-Hawaiian freighter Columbia by more than $210,000 from the time the steamer left Hawaii until the cargo got to New York. The Columbia cargo, 10,500 tons, got to New York Monday, the price being 4.38. When the cargo left Hawaii sugar was standing at 3.25. If the cargo had reached New York today many more thousand dollars would be in the pockets of the sugar men.

The next big cargo due at market on the Atlantic is that of the steamer Georgian, which should arrive about August 22 or 23, according to estimates today by Manager A. M. Nowell of the Sugar Factors' Company.

EVERYBODY WILL EAT PINEAPPLE ON THE MORROW

cars and hotels throughout the mainland will serve the fruit. And, lastly, large wholesale and retail grocery concerns in every state will make special window displays of the fruit, both fresh and canned.

Here are a few of the projects the Promotion Committee is engineering in order that pineapple day may be properly observed locally:

The grocery stores are going to make special window displays, and make fresh and canned pineapples a sales feature.

Hundreds of postal cards depicting pineapple fields and pineapple recipe books are being sent to all steamers in this port.

Benson, Smith & Co., are being supplied with postal cards and recipe books which will be distributed free by that firm tomorrow.

Reports are being received by the committee from all the steamship lines that Pineapple Day will be observed aboard.

The steamers Mongolia, Niagara, Sonoma and Marama are laying in supplies of pineapple and are planning to treat their guests with different pineapple preparations.

J. J. Richards, chief steward of the S. S. Mongolia, who is visiting this port after an absence of seven years, is a strong booster for Hawaii and consequently for the Hawaiian pineapple.

Tomorrow's bill-of-fare on the big liner will be well filled with the pine in all of its various forms. With the hot cakes at breakfast the passengers will be served pineapple juice. At dinner the pineapple will predominate, while the evening meal will prove a most elaborate exemplification of the art of preparing and cooking pines.

Other transpacific vessels will serve pineapple and it is anticipated that the homes of all residents of Hawaii will have boards well filled with the fruit that is becoming famous as a product of these islands.

The county supervisors yesterday authorized a call for tenders for construction of the following bungalow schools: Moiliili, four buildings; Manoa, two; Kalihi-waena, two; Aiea, three; Waipahu, three; Ewa, three school buildings and one teacher's cottage; Wahiawa, one; Waiolu, four; Kahuku, two and Kailua, one.

that arrived had only an average of 3.20c, and McBryde only 3.17c.

Restricting Speculation.

"A very good thing is that rumors east and west are restricting sales, thus not allowing speculators to load up at low prices."

CLOSE FRIEND OF MRS. WILSON SEES HONOLULU

Georgia Editor Says She Gave Her Strength Freely to White House Visitors

"Mrs. Wilson gave of herself and her strength so freely that thousands of visitors at the White House saw that she sacrificed her health," says J. Lindsay Johnson, editor of the Daily Tribune-Herald of Rome, Georgia, the old home of the wife of the president and the spot where she was buried three days ago.

Mr. Johnson, who is one of the best-known newspaper men in his section of the South and prominent as an educator as well as in politics, is a passenger on the transport Logan. He is going out to the Philippines as director of the census for the islands, and is accompanied by his daughter. Both are delighted with their brief stay in Hawaii.

Mr. Johnson, who is a trustee of the University of Georgia, was much interested in investigating experimental agriculture in Hawaii, visiting the local stations. He also inspected sugar growing conditions casually. He will write a series of articles to his paper, which has a wide circulation in Georgia, and said this morning that he expected to say some pleasant things about Honolulu.

A personal friend of both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. Johnson was deeply shocked to hear of Mrs. Wilson's death.

He is a staunch Democrat, but he is not in favor of removing all of the tariff from sugar.

"I am not a protective tariff man but I believe in tariff for revenue and think some tariff should be retained on sugar," he said.

REGISTRATION LIST NEARING 9,000 MARK

The total number of voters on Oahu who had registered at closing time yesterday evening reached 8873, according to the figures in the office of the City and County Clerk David Kahanokalani, and this is considered an indication that the total registration before election will easily exceed the 9000 mark, establishing a new record.

The citizens have nineteen days more in which to get their names on the great register. It is predicted that Oahu will have the heaviest vote ever cast on this island when the totals are cast up at the primary of September 12.

TOMMY BURNS, FORMER CHAMP, IN HONOLULU

Tommy Burns, who once held the heavyweight championship of the world, is again in Honolulu. He arrived here from Australia on the Marama this noon, en route for the mainland. Burns passed through Honolulu about four months ago in company with several boxers whom he was taking to Australia, these including Fritz Holland and Arthur Peiky. The two first mentioned "went big" in the southland, according to Burns. The former champion has many friends here and is being kept busy "fanning."

A meeting of the members of the Promotion Committee will be held in the rooms of the committee, Bishop street, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

H. P. Wood, secretary of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, may leave for San Francisco on the Manoa to attend to a number of business matters. Mr. Wood's proposed trip will be discussed at a meeting of the committee at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, at which time it will be decided whether it is necessary for the secretary to make the trip to the mainland at this time in

FRENCH, GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN OFFICERS HERE

French, German and Austrian officers, returning to take up arms in defense of their respective countries, are passengers on the Korea, the Pacific Mail liner which arrived this morning from the Orient.

They plan to go direct from San Francisco to New York and from there to Europe as best they can. Among the officers returning are: Captain Paul Altherrin, French; Ulrich, Governor; Hans Kuhn, German; Captain Raymond Martine, French; Dr. Ernest Ohse, German; Konrad Winternitz, Austrian; Georges Bonarchand, French; Lieut. Paul L. Gambite, German; Baron Eugene Haunschild, German; Lieut. Alois Kremser, Austrian; Captain Gaston Mangras, French; W. Neumeister, German; Maurice Bloch, French; Max de Bellecourt, French; Chas. Dufour, French; Richard J. Herzog, Austrian; Col. Henry Le Rond, French; Wilhelm Solger, German; Oscar Steiner, German; Robert Sellier, French; Captain Rascou Voluz.

Neither Attorney C. W. Ashford nor Judge Edings, whose appointments to the circuit bench in the islands were made and confirmed simultaneously, have received their commissions from Washington, though these are expected daily.

Mayor Fern is expected to fill the vacancy on the civil service commission this vacant within the next few days, and it is understood the position may be tendered to Attorney J. Lightfoot, though it is not known whether he is at liberty to accept it. All three places on the commission are filled by appointment by the mayor, who has the privilege of filling two with men of his own political party. The positions carry with them a salary of $200 a year for each commissioner.

THOMAS IS REAL HONEYMOON SHIP ON THIS VOYAGE

Upon a charge preferred by a fellow countryman, Pak Pong Chip, a Korean, was arrested this morning and lodged in the city jail, pending an investigation by Chief of Detectives McDuffie. Pak Pong Chip is charged with larceny.

Siskoff, a Russian, is an inmate of the Queen's hospital today as the result of a quarrel which he had last night with a fellow-countryman named Bignoff. According to a statement the former gave the police, the two had some words at a tenement house at Camp Two, at the conclusion of which Bignoff pushed Siskoff off the veranda, three stories above the ground. Siskoff suffered cut about the head and internal injuries and was conveyed to the hospital. Bignoff is in jail charged with assault and battery.

When Otumi, a Japanese woman residing in Iwilei, got angry with her servant this morning and commenced chasing him around the premises brandishing a broken hatchet and a hair brush, the latter sent in a hurried call to the police. The woman was arrested on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by the servant, and later released on her own recognizance. The case will be heard in district court tomorrow morning.

A hul of crap-shooters, comprising eight Hawaiians, Chinese and Filipinos, were rounded up in the police dragnet at Iwilei yesterday afternoon and this morning were haled before District Magistrate Monsarrat. Sam Kealoha, who does a little sleuth work for the detective department now and then, was called on the witness stand to testify regarding the personnel of the hul. Three of those present plead guilty. However, Judge Monsarrat assessed fines of $5 each.

On the blotter at the police court this morning appeared the name of E. W. Webber, said to be a marine of the U. S. A. T. Thomas, who was arrested shortly after 8 o'clock last night, charged with having stolen an automobile. The machine is the property of G. Schaefer who, while visiting the national guard armory last night, left the automobile on Miller street. Marine and machine were found later on Bishop street, the former being taken to the police station and the latter restored to its owner. The case was dropped in the district court this morning with the understanding that Webber leave the islands on the Thomas.

HAWAIIANS GIVE BIG RECEPTION TO RICE AT OCEANIC LINE WHARF

Before leaving for Maui this afternoon Charles A. Rice spoke at a meeting on the Oceanic wharf to a large audience of stevedores and others, mostly Hawaiians, who gathered on the pier. Rice spoke in Hawaiian and was given an exceedingly cordial reception by all present.

J. A. Akina also spoke briefly in Hawaiian in behalf of Mr. Rice as the Republican candidate for Delegate to Congress, and the points he made were applauded by the audience.

Mr. Rice leaves for Maui on the steamer W. G. Hall this afternoon and will be away a week or ten days. Upon his return he will make a most energetic local campaign.

TRADE COMMISSIONERS HERE FOLLOWING TOUR OF AUSTRALIA AND ORIENT

D. M. Parry, Dr. A. A. Snowden and John Kirby, Jr., members of the American Trade Commission of the National Association of Manufacturers, arrived in Honolulu on the Pacific Mail liner Korea this afternoon after several months spent in Australia and the Orient, where they carried on an investigation of trade conditions in those countries. The members of the commission are en route to San Francisco. The party was met at the steamer by a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce and taken on a sight-seeing tour about Honolulu and vicinity.

LIGHTFOOT MAY REPLACE EDINGS ON POLICE BOARD

Judge W. S. Edings, President Wilson's recent appointee to the judgeship of the second circuit, on Maui, today tendered to Mayor Fern his resignation from the position of chairman of the police and fire civil service commission. The resignation is to take effect Monday. It was accepted by the mayor.

Neither Attorney C. W. Ashford nor Judge Edings, whose appointments to the circuit bench in the islands were made and confirmed simultaneously, have received their commissions from Washington, though these are expected daily.

Mayor Fern is expected to fill the vacancy on the civil service commission this vacant within the next few days, and it is understood the position may be tendered to Attorney J. THOMAS IS REAL HONEYMOON SHIP ON THIS VOYAGE

The transport Thomas, which sails for the Philippines at 5 o'clock this afternoon, is a honeymoon ship this trip, there being several bridal couples aboard.

The newest newlyweds on the troopship were married under most romantic circumstances on the even of the departure from San Francisco.

The San Francisco Chronicle has the following to say of the affair: "Bright lights of an uptown cafe and a merry dinner in honor of the recent marriage of a classmate and chum for Horace W. Pillsbury, ensign in the United States navy and son of Rosecrans W. Pillsbury, foremost Republican of New Hampshire and present candidate for governor of that state. Almost as the clock struck the midnight hour, he succumbed to the charms of Miss Harriet Brewster, his classmate, and after an impassioned pleading in which he was joined by his friends, he succeeded in persuading her to become his bride.

Telephone wires were kept hot for a time and finally the services of Deputy County Clerk Milton Davis were secured and the necessary marriage license issued. Then came a search for a justice of the peace which ended in finding Judge Bernard J. Flood at his residence, 333 Sanchez street, who obligingly agreed to perform the ceremony.

Was Awaiting Transport.

Ensign Pillsbury is on his way to the Asiatic station and has been stopping in this city for the past three weeks awaiting the departure of the transport Thomas. Shortly prior to his arrival here his friend and classmate, Ensign Neil Henry Gelsenhoff, who had been stationed on the training ship St. Louis at Yerba Buena island, startled his brother officers by his sudden marriage to Miss Thelma Ray Kemp, a moving picture star, and it was the celebration of this marriage prior to the departure of the bride and groom for the Philippines which was responsible for Pillsbury's matrimonial venture.

DAUGHTERS OF HAWAII WILL ERECT TABLET TO KAMEHAMEHA III

Headed by Queen Liliuokalani, a large delegation of the members of the Daughters of Hawaii this morning left for the Big Island on the steamer Mauna Loa where at Keauhou, North Kona, a handsome granite tablet will be erected to mark the birthplace of Kamehameha I, better known as Kamehameha III. Among those making the trip are Mrs. Edgar Henriques, Miss Lucy Peabody, Mrs. F. M. Swanzy, Miss Swanzy, Mrs. C. S. Holloway, Mrs. Kekuewa and Miss Kekuewa. Col. Curtis F. Laukea and Edgar Henriques accompanied the party.

At Keauhou there is a great pile of rocks where it is said Kamehameha III was born March 17, 1814. Elaborate ceremonies, including pageants, have been planned for the arrival of the party at Keauhou. Upon the arrival of the Mauna Loa at Kailua, the vessel will be met by a fleet of canoes, conveying a decorated royal double canoe upon which the memorial will be transferred to the shore. The canoes will then form a procession and will depart for Keauhou, six miles across the bay. The setting-up of the memorial brings to a culmination a plan inaugurated by the Daughters of Hawaii some months ago.

Jacinto Pereira de Mendonca has filed a petition in circuit court asking that Bruce Cartwright be appointed administrator of the estate of Jose Ignacio D'Avellar, alias Josep Enos, who died at Fayal, Azores, on September 17, 1913. Enos left property consisting of land on King street, Honolulu, and bonds and cash worth a total of $19,000, and he is survived by two daughters, Maria and Rosa, who

SHERIFF LOSES FIRST FIGHT ON POLICE BOARD

Supreme Court Holds Appointment of Jack S. Kalakiela to Be Without Authority

County Sheriff Charles H. Rose has lost a decisive battle in his war with the civil service commission and his trusted lieutenant, Jack S. Kalakiela, has sustained a loss of salary, perquisites and all other emoluments accruing to the office of deputy. The supreme court today handed down its decision in the suit brought by Kalakiela against County Auditor James Bicknell, and says: "Under section 2 of Act 51 of the laws of 1913, the appointment of a clerk to the deputy sheriff by the sheriff of the city and county of Honolulu without the approval of the civil service commission is void and a person so appointed to be appointed is not entitled to the salary of the office though he has performed the duties thereof."

The decision, written by Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson and concurred in by Associate Justice Quarles and Acting Associate Justice Whitney, the latter sitting in place of Justice Watson, continues in its syllabus: "It is the duty of the civil service commission, under said Act, to classify the positions in the departments to which its functions relate and to adapt the examinations to which applicants are subjected to suit the different classes of positions to which appointments are sought. The appointing officer is not required to make an appointment from the list of eligibles furnished by the commission where it does not appear that such eligibles were examined with reference to their qualifications for the position sought to be filled."

As in the recent case of Kamahu, whom Sheriff Rose elevated without the civil service commission's approval, the supreme court holds that the sheriff "was justified" in refusing to select for the vacancy a person from the list of eligibles submitted by the commission for the reason that the positions had not been classified and it did not appear that any of those whose names were on the commission's eligible list were applicants for the job or had been examined with reference to their competency for such position.

It says, however, that the appointment of Kalakiela having been made without the approval of the commission, was in contravention of section 2 of the statute, and void. "It was the duty of the sheriff to notify the commission," says the decision, "that the vacancy existed, and request that an examination for applicants for the position be held. The sheriff was without authority to make the appointment subject to the subsequent passing by the appointee of such examination as he would be required to take. Presumably the commission could be compelled, in a proper proceeding for that purpose, to hold an examination for applicants for the vacant clerkship, but the attempted appointment of the plaintiff being void, he is not entitled to recover compensation as here claimed. Judgment may be entered for the defendant."
